INDEX OF PERSONS

The information and data in this book is a personal record compiled by the author for his own use and satisfaction and to preserve the contents for his descendants. The extensive research required in developing this record brought to light so much unpublished genealogical data and corrected so many published errors, that it was suggested the author make this data available to other genealogists by placing copies in several genealogical libraries. Errors undoubtedly exist, but the references after each family sketch gives the source of the author's information and affords a chance to check the data and learn much more about these ancestors and their families. The index of persons has been added to assist genealogists.

PREFACE

This is a record of the American ancestors of the author. It has taken many years of the author's spare time to compile this record. Especial effort has been made to make this record easy to understand and follow, forward and backward and from family to family.

The key to the entire arrangement is the ancestral chart at the beginning which is both an index and complete summary of the families. On this chart generations are numbered at the top of each column, the author being of the first generation. Each family has been given a family number shown in brackets after the name. A family consists of one or more generations having the same family surname. The families are numbered in natural order, beginning with author's as number one (1) his mother's family number (2), grandmother's family (3), etc.

Following the chart the condensed records of the families have been arranged in numerical order. Each family sketch starts with the oldest known American ancestor of each family and gives brief descriptions of his activities, dates, residences, children, etc., followed in order by the same information for each generation of the family. The number before each ancestor's name indicates the number of generations from the author and hence gives the column in which he will be found on the chart. The numbers shown in brackets following the names are the family numbers also found on the index chart. By this arrangement one may turn quickly from chart to family or from family to chart or from family to family.

For further convenience in finding family names an index is given in both the front and the back of the book showing family names in alphabetical order with their family numbers. The numbers shown on this index are family numbers, not page numbers. The pages are not numbered, since the families are arranged in numerical order.

In the family sketches or text, each name that is capitalized is presumably an ancestor of the author and following each sketch or family is a list of references or sources of information. In a few cases where ancestry has not been thoroughly proven as yet, the facts leading to the author's conclusions have been given.

Several family portraits are included in this record and in the back may be found charts showing relationships to important personages.

AMERICAN ANCESTRY
LEON R BROWN

6. NATHANIEL C. BROWN was born about 1720 and appeared in the Quaker settlements of Dutchess Co. N. Y. in 1752 when the ear mark for his cattle was recorded on Dec. 4 on the town records of Crum Elbo. The same year Benedick Brown and his son Valentine also appeared there and may have relatives since the families intermingled and members of both attended weddings of each. Benedick's father's name was Samuel. They came from Mass. and later removed to Queensbury, N. Y. About this same time Nathaniel Pearsall (14) (George⁴, George³, Henry², Thomas¹,) came from Flushing, L.I., via Searingtown and Oyster Bay to Clinton twp. Dutchess Co., where he was living in 1757. Since Nathaniel Brown names his oldest son Pearsall, it seems probable that ELIZABETH, Nathaniel's wife, was a PEARSALL and quite likely a sister of Nathaniel Pearsall named after her grandmother. Mary Pearsall another sister of Nathaniel's married a Haight and also lived in Nine Partners.

It is apparent that 4 of Nathaniel's children were born before his coming to Dutchess Co. and they were probably born on Long Island where the Pearsalls and other Dutchess Co. settlers came from. One or more of these families were of Welch origin and family tradition has it that Nathaniel Brown came from Wales. Obidiah Griffen and family came to Dutchess Co. from Dartmouth. See N.W. Quarterly Vo. 3. The names of the children of Nathaniel and Elizabeth as well as the dates of their births and marriages came from the Quaker records of Dutchess Co. The second marriage of Nathaniel Brown to Mehitabel Duell "of Beckmans at Oswego" is recorded Nov. 15, 1764. She was alive in 1790 and mentioned in his will.

Nathaniel Brown was pathmaster of a road in 1784 described in the town records of Crum Elbo as follows: "From Bartholomew Griffens, past Nathaniel Browns until it meets the road from Joseph Wolleys to James Jermonds". Nathaniel Brown and his wife were on a list of persons in Oblong in 1761 and were present at the wedding of Hannah Brown 1769, Pearsall Brown 1771, Valentine Brown 1771 and Mary in 1779. Nathaniel's Will dated 3/24/1790 in addition to his wife mentions children: James, Pearsall, Sarah Haight, Hannah Macomber, Philener Ireland, and Mary Griffen. Nathaniel who was drowned 1785 is not mentioned. Pearsall Brown and Jonathan Griffen were executors. The following is the data of his children:

Pearsall	b. 28d. 7mo. 1741 m. 12d 5mo. 1771 Martha Causten
Sarah	b. 28d 1mo 1744 m. Obadiah Haight
Hannah	b. 17d. 12mo. 1747 m. 1769 David Macomber
Philener	b. 17d. 3mo. 1750 m. 1771 John Ireland
James	b. 16d. 9mo. 1752 m. Elizabeth
5. NATHANIEL	b. 3d. 7mo. 1755 m. 1782 ABIGAIL COLLINS (9)
Mary	b. 16d. 3mo. 1759 m. 27d. 5mo. 1779 Jonathan Griffen

Note: Joseph Causten was present at Pearsall's wedding. Perhaps he was Martha's father. Pearsall's Will mentions children: Daniel, Abigail Fowler, Betsy Vail, Martha Vail. David Macomber had William b. 1770, Elizabeth b. 1772, Phebe b. 1773, David b. 1774 and Pease b. 1775. James Brown had sons Nathaniel and John when he removed to the Creek Dutchess Co. 1792. Mary and Jonathan Griffen (Edward³, Richard², Edward¹,) removed to Quaker Springe Saratoga Co. in 1783 where Mary died 1831. They had the following children: Gershom (Queensbury 1826), Hannah, Samuel m. Abigail Leggett, Bridget m. Philip Palmer, Mary m. Isaac Wilde, Elizabeth m. Richard Barnes, Isaac m. Rebecca Macey, Jonathan m. Sarah Wilde, and Sarah. (See Griffen Typscrip, L.I. Historical Society).

5. NATHANIEL BROWN son of Nathaniel C. Brown of Nine Partners, Clinton Twp. in Dutchess Co. N. Y., was born there 7d.3mo.1755. He apparently spent his youth there and appears on the Quaker records there as Nathaniel Brown, Jr., when he attended weddings notably that of his sister Mary in 1779. It is not known if he fought in the Revolution but there were men of that name from that region who did and he did not marry until he was 28 years old. His widow married a Revolutionary soldier.

On the 18 d. 4mo. 1782 Nathaniel Brown, Jr. was given Quaker permission to remove to East Hoosick (now N. Adams, Mass.) but the record there does not indicate that he ever arrived there. Perhaps he visited in Stonington, Conn., for on the 21d 3mo. 1782 he married ABIGAIL COLLINS, daughter of JOHN COLLINS (9) an eminent Quaker who sat at the head of the New England Meetings. John Collins lived in Stonington. Abigail was born there and her birth 4/6/1760 is shown in the Collins Genealogy. Abigail's mother Mehitabel was living there 1790. On the fly-leaf of an old Quaker book printed 1772 and now (1949) in possession of the writer, Leon R. Brown, are these hand written memos: "John Collins his book" "John Collins of Stonington in Connecticut---" "Abigail Collins her book given her by her father in his last will A.D. 1778" "Nathaniel Brown his book". Thus is preserved the signatures of these three generations of ancestors.

The dates of the marriage and the births of their children, etc. given below are taken from records found in the Brown Family Bible in the possession of the writer, but they have not been found in the Quaker records of Rhode Island, Connecticut or New York. As the record of the marriage precedes the one of removal from Nine Partners "free of intentions" one must be in error. Perhaps the removal was entered on the records some time after Nathaniel had left and they were not sure where he had gone. There seems no doubt, however, that Nathaniel and Abigail settled in Quaker Springs near Saratoga where his sister Mary Griffen also removed. He is perhaps buried near the Quaker Church built there 1783.

Nathaniel died 25d. 8mo. 1785. Family tradition has it that he drowned when he jumped into the North River, (Hudson) to rescue his team of horses when they backed from a ferry with the wagon while crossing the river. Administration papers were issued to his widow Abigail. "Nathaniel Brown, Saratoga District, yeoman, intestate, to Abigail of same place April 27, 1786". This is on record in Surrogates Court, New York City. His grave has not been found.

About 1790 Abigail married 2nd William Odell. They lived a mile or so west of Ballston Spa. In the 1790 census they were listed 1-2-4. This was Odell's 2nd marriage he having had William b.1786, Anna b. 1787, and Sarah b. 1789. Abigail had a son Collins Odell b. 1793 who became 1st postmaster of Mayfield, N.Y. and is buried there. Abigail died about 1795. Children:

- John b. June 6, 1783 d. July 19, 1783
4. NATHANIEL b. March 11, 1785 m. 1805 CYNTHIA WOOD (5)

4. NATHANIEL BROWN, son of NATHANIEL BROWN and ABIGAIL COLLINS (9) was born 11d-3mo. 1785 and was but 5 mos. old at the time of his father's death. His mother who married Wm. Odell, a Revolutionary Soldier of Ballston, N.Y., died 4th mo. 1794 when Nathaniel was 8 years old. Nathaniel inherited some money left by his father and the following year when 9 years old, he bought a farm from his stepfather, according to deed (E-265) recorded in Ballston. This reads, Wm. Odell to "Nathaniel Brown, son of Nathaniel Brown, deceased of Saratoga and County aforesaid" 160 pounds to be "paid by estate of said Nathaniel Brown", 50 Acres The "Quaker Records - West of the river Saratoga Co. "by Frost gives this entry, "24th 4th mo. 1799 Nathaniel Brown, a minor to live with Solomon Veal (Vail) at the Creek." Other Quaker records read "The Creek Dutchess Co." Solomon Vail in the 1800 census of Dutchess Co. (N. Y. Vol. 67 pg.364) lived near Gilbert Griffin, Jesse Haight and Isaac Vail, and was the son-in-law of Pearsall Brown, Nathaniel's brother. Solomon Vail was an executor of Pearsall Brown's will. (See Dutchess Co. Wills, N.Y. Vol. 61) Apparently, Nathaniel was back in Ballston again in 1803, when he was a witness to his step-father's William Odell's will. Wm. Odell died in Ballston, July 8, 1805. On June 27, the same year Nathaniel m. CYNTHIA, daughter of ABRAHAM WOOD (5) who lived in Woods "Hollow" between Mayfield and Broadalbin, Fulton County. See Cynthia's photograph.

Abraham Wood and his wife Mary, daughter of Benjamin Butler (10) were originally from New Bedford, Mass. where the Butlers were an important family. Benjamin's wife was Esther Kempton (17) a descendant of three Mayflower Pilgrims and whose ancestors at one time owned most of what is now New Bedford. (See Wood, Butler & Kempton). In 1810 Nathaniel Brown and his wife Cynthia sold the farm in Ballston to Nathan Sherwood, (Deed J-102).

Nathaniel Brown was brought up a Quaker, his mother being the daughter of a noted Quaker, and thus it is no wonder that he married a Quakeress, and became a Quaker preacher. He is mentioned in the History of Fulton County as "Quaker Brown". Nathaniel and his wife Cynthia lived on their farm, sometimes known as the Lansing Farm about a mile south of Mayfield on the old road between Mayfield and Broadalbin. It is near Perrigo's and there is a Lansing Cemetery on the farm. Nathaniel Brown owned many farms in Fulton Co. and it is said he left a farm to each of his children. His earmarks by which he identified his cattle is recorded in the Town Clerk's Office of Mayfield as a "hole in the right ear". The old Close Homestead northeast of the village of Mayfield was given to his oldest daughter who married Peter Close. When Nathaniel's son John failed, he purchased the John Brown farm on Jackson Summit and willed it to John's four youngest sons. To his son Isaac he gave the farm on which he lived. Nathaniel died Sept. 28, 1865 and is buried by his wife in the cemetery at Broadalbin. The graves were discovered by the author in 1931. They are near the road on the north side of the cemetery. Photographs of them can be seen in this genealogy. Cynthia died April 1, 1862. Her photograph can also be seen in this book.

They had eight children. Cynthia's death and that of her oldest daughter is recorded in the Quaker records of Saratoga Springs filed in Albany St. Lib:

N.Y. He raised his large family on the farm known as "Brownwood" just south of the old village of Jackson Summitt on the mountain about three miles north of Mayfield, N.Y. A photograph of John and a picture of the farmhouse with the old well sweep is shown in this genealogy. The original barn was located up the road a ways on the opposite side of the road. John and his son James were the very first manufacturers of gloves in Mayfield and among the first in Fulton Co. He sold them all over the State of New York and in New England where he drove with his team. It is told how he kept his money hid in the grain box under the seat. He wore his hat in the house, Quaker fashion and was a very astute business man. Eliza was found dead of heart trouble on July 25 1872. John died at the home of his son Rowan, 1/11/1897 at the age of 89. (See photographs) Children:

4. JOHN ROBERTSON was born in Scotland in 1796 and came from Perthshire to Johnstown, N. Y., probably by way of Albany, where he may have met and married SARAH, daughter of PETER BULSON (7) about 1816. Sarah was born in 1802, according to her age and date of death on the headstone in Johnstown. John was a landscape gardner and sexton of a church in Johnstown. It is said he set the elm trees along Main Street in that City and laid out the Johnstown Cemetery where both he and Sarah are buried. They lived in a house on the street leading off of Main Street to the east, toward Tribes Hill. Sarah died about 1655. Her will is recorded in Johnstown. Children:

7. WILLIAM BROWN, b. 1702, a maker of linen, came from Colerain near Londonderry, Ireland, before 1735. There were three ships that came together and had aboard also the families of ROBERT KING (18) and Andrew McLucas all of whom had come originally from Scotland and stayed one generation in Ireland. They landed in Boston and all settled for a time in Hopkinton, Mass., 34 miles west of Boston. In the fall of 1735 William Brown with Isreal Gibbs and their families moved to the new township of Blandford in western Mass. They were among the very first settlers and slept on the ground under their ox carts until they could build log houses. William married MARTHA MILLER (31) in Ireland and at least two of his children were born there, Nancy in 1728 and William on April 8, 1731.

William fought in the war against the French and Indians in 1757. In 1759 he purchased the Brown Homestead in Blandford which passed to his son William and then to Zadock. It is quite certain that he is the William Brown from Blandford who fought in the Revolution when his brother Soloman was a Captain.

4. WILLIAM BROWN according to family records was born May 13 1797. He is said to have worked as a young man with his brothers in a saw mill in Cazenovia, N.Y. He went early to Jefferson Co. N Y. where he met and married REBECCA HOWLAND daughter of DAVID HOWLAND (6) and his wife SARAH, daughter of SELAH WOODWORTH, (12). About 1825 the family moved to Madison Co. where William bought a farm from his brother Quartis. About 1830 William left his family and went away not to be heard from again. It is said his brother Zadock did the same thing. In 1836 Rebecca married 2nd Levi Hubbard a preacher and well to do farmer in Constableville, N Y. Her grandson James H Brown when aged 9 spent a summer on their farm. She told him about driving from Cazenovia to Constableville on her honeymoon in a buggy. Her daughter Adelaide by Levi Hubbard married a Furdick and Henry Burdick a grandson in Gloversville N. Y. has Adelaide's wedding certificate signed by Levi as minister and Rebecca as witness. He also has a lock of Sarah Woodworth's hair. Pictures of Sarah Woodworth Howland and of Rebecca Howland Brown Hubbard are in front of this record. Rebecca died April 11, 1886. There are two reports as to what happened to William Brown. One rumor is that he went to Ohio and started a saw mill. The other is that he went to Pennsylvania. Augustus M. Brown, William's grandson claimed he met 2 of William Brown's sons by a later marriage in Washington during the Civil War. They said they were from Penn.

5. PETER BULSON son of Solomon above married 6/5/1793 RACHEL, daughter of ALEXANDER SMITH (13) . When their daughter Elizabeth was baptised, Peter Walden and Elizabeth Smith appeared as Witnesses. in 1800 Peter Bulson was living in Watervliet with 2 sons and a daughter under 10. Nearby lived Solomon Bulson, Nicholas Rideker, Peter Varley, Thomas Shaddock, and Henry Bulson. In 1810 Peter had 2 sons and 2 daughters under 10. In 1820 Peter was in Albany and had 3 sons and 2 daughters under 10, but no daughters with him over 10. He was over 45 but his wife if living was under 45. In 1814, Peter and his wife Rachel sold their 47 acre farm, (deed also signed by Solomon) in Watervliet to Peter Schuyler and perhaps moved to Albany. The birth of only one daughter has been found in the church records. To fit the census, he had children appx., as follows:

	Son	b. 1794
	Elizabeth	b. 1796	baptised Dutch Church Albany 9/4/1796
	Peter	b. 1798	m. 9/24/1826 Rachel Hardy b. 1801
4.	SARAH	b. 1801	m. JOHN ROBERTSON (2) See note below.

	Son	b. 1810
	Daughter	b. 1812
	Thomas	b. 1814	m. 7/27/1835 Caroline Manning
	Daughter	b. 1816
	Son	b. 1818

Note: There is no positive proof that Sarah Bulson was the daughter of Peter, but there is ample evidence that she was the daughter of no other Bulson. Peter Bulson and only Peter fits every condition as Sarah's father. A son of Sarah told his daughter that Sarah came from an old Mohawk Valley Dutch family by the name of Bulson living near Watervliet and may have married near Schenectady.

Since all Bulsons in the Albany district are descendants of Henry (7) above Sarah must have been a daughter of one of Henry's grandsons all of whom are known. As Sarah was born in 1801 or 1802 and married in 1816, she must have been the daughter of a Bulson who had a daughter under 10 yrs of age in 1810. There were 9 such grandchildren of Henry in the 1810 census as follows:

Name	Father	Residence	Dauts. under 10.	Comments
Henry	Alexander	Brunswick	1	Eva b. 1803
Soloman	"	"	2	Anna b.1802, Alida b.1805
John	"	"	2	Lived east of Hudson River

Joseph	Cornelius	Schenectady	3	No Sarah in family Bible

B U L S O N (7) Cont'd.

This leaves Peter as the only person likely to have been Sarah's father. He lived in the right location. He had a sister Sarah and may have named his daughter for her. He had two daughters under 10 in 1810. He had no unmarried daughters over 10 in 1814. He moved to Albany in 1814 where John Robertson may have met her when he arrived at that port of entry from Scotland about that time. Sarah Bulson Robertson named children Henry, Elizabeth, John and Alexander. Peter had a brother Henry, a sister Elizabeth and uncles Alexander, John and Henry. The Dutch Church records, where Peter undoubtedly attended, were burned about 1820, which explains the absence of a church record.

7. ROBERT CAMPBELL (11) was born in Scotland 1715. He came to Gloucester Mass. where on Nov. 27 1738 he m. MARY PIERCE. When the intentions were published Mary was given as the daughter of JOHN PIERCE (33). The birth of MARY daught. of JOHN and RUTH PIERCE is recorded in the Vital Records of Gloucester on Jan. 31 1717/8. The marriage of JOHN PIERCE and RUTH HILTON (56) was recorded on Aug. 12 1717. (Records of the Third Parish at Annisquam). The first six children of Robert and Mary were born in Dudley Mass. and the others in Westfield or Southwick. Robert is said to be one of the first settlers of Southwick settling there about 1750. He deeded land in Southwick to his son James in 1775. At Southwick in 1775 he was moderator of a meeting that raised a company of "Minutemen". Robert died Feb. 20 1776 aged 60 and is buried in Southwick. His wife Mary died Nov. 2 1804 age 87.

6. JAMES CAMPBELL came with his parents to Westfield and Southwick. Here at the home of Mathew Laflin on Feb. 2 1768 he was married to Jenny probably the sister of Mathew and daughter of CHARLES LAFLIN (19) 1699-1762 and his wife 'AGNISS' (1711-1767) who came from Oxford Mass. to Westfield. James and Jenny were married by Rev. Ballentine who recorded it in his diary now in the Westfield Public Library. Mathew was a Captain in the Revolutionary War. Savage thought that Charles Laflin may have been the son of Robt. MacLathen of Brookfield Mass. James Campbell of Southwick was 3-0-4 in the 1790 census. He and his brother James with their wives Jane and Keziah sold land to James Smith in 1791. James and Jane Campbell were members of the Southwick Congregational Church in 1773.

9. WALTER WOODWORTH is believed to have arrived on the ship "Mary and John" one of the eleven ships comprising Gov. Winthrop's fleet bringing the Puritans and arriving at Nantasket, Mass. 1630. On the day after arrival Capt. Squeb turned his passengers and their goods ashore near Scituate leaving them to shift for themselves. Dean's History of Scituate states that in 1633 the settlers proceeded to lay out a regular village. Walter already had a house and lot. On the south side of the Meeting House lane were George Lewis lot #1, John Hewes #2, Walter Woodworth #3, Richard Foxwell #4, and Isaac Chittenden #5. In April 1635 Walter Woodworth was assigned lot #8 on Kent St. which runs along the ocean front and there he built a house. In 1635 he owned other land; a tract below Stockbridge Hill where afterwards stood the residence of the poet Samuel Woodworth; and the hill just west of the South Scituate R.R. Sta. which was called Walter Woodworth's Hill. In 1666 he bought 60 acres in Weymouth. The Scituate records have many references to Walter. He paid taxes in 1633, and was the surveyor who laid out the town. He was a strong supporter of the Puritan pastor Rev. Charles Chauncey who became the second President of Harvard. Walter turned over his house to Chauncey and proposed to present it to him if he would stay in Scituate. In the early records the name is spelled Modart, Woodart, Wodard, Woodward and variations are common. The spelling Woodworth is not found on a document until 1645. Walter's wife's name is not found in his will or elsewhere but she was living at the time of King Philip's War in 1676. Walter's will was dated Nov. 26 1685 and was proved March 2 1686. The following children are named in his will: (The birth dates in some cases are estimates).

Selah with three others was granted land in Mayfield, N.Y. by Sir. William Johnson and thus became a founder of that village. (then called Philadelphia Bush). Selah was a sargeant in the 3rd Regiment of the Tryon Co. militia and was several times engaged in battles of the Revolutionary War. During part of the war the family lived at White Creek Washington Co. and it was here that his daughter SARAH was born 1779. Selah took a prominent part in the affairs of the town being Supervisor from 1794 to 1805 and for many years he was Commissioner of the Poor and Overseer of Highways. He owned the land where the village now stands and donated the land for the present M. E. Church. Selah died 1823. He is buried in the Woodworth Cemetary with his wife.

6. ALEXANDER SMITH married RACHEL daughter of WILLIAM RADCLIFF (23) and his wife MARTHA BENNOIT (42). RACHEL was born Oct. 1 1732. Alexander was in Albany 1768 when the Dutch records show the birth of his daughter Catharine, but in 1775 he lived in or near Schenectady where his daughter Rachel was baptised in the Dutch Church. In 1790 Alexander had 4 children according to that census. Next to him was John Smith perhaps his son. He may have been the same Alexander Smith who in 1785 applied for a farm in Duansburg near Schenectady. Lockwood Smith and Joseph Smith also applied for farms in Duansburg. Official documents of Albany show several orders for payments of sums to Alexander for services. His children may have in part been as follows:

Alexander	perhaps
Isaac	unlikely
Catharine	bap. 1768	Stephen Van Rensselaer & Catharine Livingston
John	perhaps	Next to Alexander 1790 Witnesses
Elizabeth	perhaps	Witness at bap. of Rachel's daut.

5. RACHEL bap. 5/18/1775 m. PETER BULSON (?)

Note: Catharine Livingston above was the daut. of Philip, Signer of Declaration of Independance. Alexander may have been the son of Obediah Smith of Smithtown L. I. and if so was born Aug. 20 1728.

10. THOMAS PEARSALL was born in England where he married MARY daut. of WILLIAM BRENT of Gloucestershire and London. He managed his father's tobacco business in London and Virginia where he removed in 1630. According to the Pearsall Genealogy which has been disputed he had the following children:

9. HENRY	b.	m. ANN VALENTINE
Nicholas	b.	Had dauts. Sarah and Mary
George	b.	Had sons John and Jeremiah

9. HENRY PEARSALL who according to some was not the son of THOMAS above was born about 1620 and came to America and settled at Pearsall, Hellgate Neck, Hemstead, L.I. He married ANN VALENTINE widow of Moyles Williams. The Valentines were Dutch-English traders. Henry's will dated 1667 is in the Surrogates office N.Y.C. He was one of the largest landholders of Hemstead and had much personal property.

Note: There is no absolute proof that Elizabeth wife of Nathaniel Brown was a daughter of George Pearsall but there is little doubt that she was a Pearsall since Nathaniel named his first son Pearsall Brown and the other Pearsalls in Dutchess Co. including Nathaniel her brother came from the Friend's settlements in Hamstead, L.I. It is also likely that George Elizabeth's father would name a daughter after his mother. She was of the right age and no other possibility has been found.

11. EPHRAIM KEMPTON of Scituate Mass. was a brother of Manasseh Kempton who arrived at Plymouth in the Ann 1623 from Colchester, Essex and who later became a leader in the colony and acquired large tracts of lands in various towns. With Bradford Manasseh Kempton was one of the proprietors of Dartmouth and he married Juliana Carpenter MORTON widow of Geo. MORTON (106) and sister of the 2nd wife of Gov. Bradford. Ephraim did not come with his brother as his name does not appear in connection with the division of cattle in 1627. In 1640 Manasseh purchased a farm in Scituate. In 1643 Ephraim and his son Ephraim Jr. lived on this farm and their names first appear on the list of those able to bear arms, the son being then over 21 years old. Ephraim died May 5 1645. Probate proceedings show that Ephraim Jr. was the only heir and he and Manasseh were appointed administrators. No mention is found any place of his wife or of other children. Ephraim was a tailor and a farmer. It seems that his more prosperous brother induced him to come to America and established him on the Scituate farm.

10. EPHRAIM KEMPTON born 1623 or earlier married Jan. 23 1646 JOANNA daughter of THOMAS RAWLINS (105) of Scituate and Boston. He carried on the farm on the North River until his death June 24 1655. His widow died Mar. 31 1656 leaving 4 children the eldest 10 or 11 and the youngest under 3. Their great uncle Manasseh Kempton took two children and the grandfather Thomas Rawlins in Boston took the other two. By an agreement signed by the two guardians the son Ephraim was to have the Scituate farm when he became of age.

8. EPHRAIM KEMPTON was born 1674 probably in Boston although recorded in Salem. He removed to Plymouth where he became a shipwright and married Jan. 2 1702 PATIENCE daughter of Elder THOMAS FAUNCE (54). In 1733 his uncle Manasseh Kempton of Southampton L.I. who had never married conveyed to him "one half of my whole share in Dartmouth which was originally my uncle (grand uncle) Manasseh Kempton's". The deed was for love and affection is recorded in Bristol Co. Registry of Deeds, Taunton, Mass. The gift was several hundred acres of land. Ephraim moved to his new land and built a home 1736 at what is now the corner of County and North Streets, New Bedford. Their farm ran back from the shore a mile in length and three-fourths of a mile in width. Ephraim died in 1758 in his eighty-fifth year and his widow in 1779 when over one hundred five years of age. She is said to have been one of the oldest persons to have lived in New Bedford. She remembered King Philip's head on a pole. The author has photographs of her grave and that of Thomas Kempton at Acusnet.

He lived in his father's homestead and inherited a generous portion of his estate. He was thrice married. His 2nd wife MARY HATHAWAY daughter of THOMAS HATHAWAY (30) was a descendant of three Mayflower passengers and the mother of all his children. Esther the eldest lived with her husband in part of the Kempton holdings on Clark's Point, New Bedford. Kempton Street is named for the Kempton family which was one of the largest land holders and prominent families in New Bedford.

The CLUTE family came from Neiven Roy, Holland. The given name of the father of the Amercian immigrants is not known and probably only two of his children came to America. Capt. John Clute in his will 1683 mentioned his brothers Jacob, Barent, Everst, Clement, and sisters Annetje, and Engel. He also mentioned his nephew John who was undoubtedly the son of his brother Jacob who also came to America,

9. JACOB CLUTE seems to have been the only brother to follow Capt. John Clute to America. He appeared at the baptism of his grandson Jacob at Kingston in 1698. With him as witness was Bacta Slegtenaars who may have been his wife. Only three persons are in evidence as likely to have been his sons.

Frederick was in Albany 1687 and 1689 when he had been a witness at the baptism of his brother John's children. Both Frederick and John named children for their father Jacob. The first three of Frederick's children were baptised in Kingston the others in Albany.

10. JOHN FAUNCE came to Plymouth on the Ann 1623. On the same ship were ancestors HENRY HOWLAND, EPHRAIM HOWLAND, GEORGE MORTON, his wife JULIANNA and daughter PATIENCE whom JOHN FAUNCE married in 1633. Savage states that the name Manassah which appeared next to John's on the passenger list must without doubt be for M. Kempton. John must have been quite young when he came to Plymouth. His connection with the Faunce family in England has not been determined but it seems certain that Burke's "Landed Gentry" is wrong in connecting this family with the Thomas Faunce who was present at the attack on the Spanish Armada in 1588. John Faunce died in 1654 and left nine children as follows:

Priscilla	b.	1634-5	m. 1651 Joseph Warren (108) son of RICHARD.

9. THOMAS FAUNCE was born in Plymouth in 1647 and on Dec. 13 1672 married JANE daughter of WILLIAM NELSON (83). Thomas was a member of the Pilgrim Church at Plymouth where he was made Deacon in 1686 and Ruling Elder in 1699. Thomas was the last Ruling Elder of the Plymouth Church and held that distinguished honor until his death Feb. 27 1746 when he was 99 years of age. He was buried in the old burying ground at Plymouth. Several years ago his monument there was restored and a photograph of his grave is shown in a book named "Old New England Gravestones." Another booklet called "Handbook of Old Burial Hill, Plymouth." gives a sketch of the headstone and says this: "The stone of Elder Faunce occupies a prominent position on the hilltop. It bears the figure of a skeleton, seated on an hourglass. The left hand of the skeleton holds a scythe and wings are attached to the hourglass. Above the figure is the drawing of a scallop shell. The inscription is:- Here lyes buried the Body of Mr. Thomas Faunce ruling Elder of the first Church of Christ in Plymouth deceased Febry 27th An: Dom. 1745-6 in the 99th year of his Age. The Fathers, were are they? Blessed are the dead who Die in the Lord."

9. JAN BARENTSEN POEST is assumed to be the father of MAGTLET JANSE POST who married JOHANNES QUACKENBOS (66) as there seems no other possibility but the author has not found her birth in the Dutch Church records. It seems certain that Jan Barentsen Wemp (alias Poest) was not her father since she was not mentioned in the agreement disposing of his property. (See page 361 Vol. 55 N.Y.B.& G.Reg.) Jan Barentsen Poest (1620-1669) settled in Rensselaerwyck and owned property in Albany 1641. He married 1641 Nieltje daughter of CORNELIS THUENISZ VON BRENCHELEN (119) commissioner of lands at Fort Orange. BARENT JANSEN POEST (d.1647) came from Holland 1623 and settled in New Amsterdam where he built a house on Stone St. next to the great stone brew house which he owned and operated with his brothers-in-law (see Loockerman 96).

George and Julianna were married in Lyden, Holland July 23 1612. At that time George was described as a merchant from York, England and his brother Thomas was present at the wedding: George was financial agent at London of the Mayflower Pilgrims and is presumed by some to have been the editor of the valuable Tract usually called "Morts Relation". George died in June 1624 the year of the division of lands. He was 39 years of age. His widow Julianna, whose sister was the wife of Gov. Bradford, married Marasseh Kempton(17).

11. WIDOW MARTHA FORD came from England to Plymouth in the Fortune 1621 the first ship after the Mayflower to reach Plymouth. With her were her children John, William, and Martha. Some reports are that Martha was born on the trip over and others that she was born in Plymouth the night the Fortune arrived. In any case there is no doubt that Martha was a daughter of Widow Ford. Nothing is known of Widow Ford's husband, where he lived or when he died. About 1624 Widow Ford married Peter Brown a Mayflower Pilgrim whose wife had died or who may have been single.

10. RICHARD WARREN was born in England and married there his wife ELIZABETH who was born in 1583. (She died October 1673 aged 90). Richard did not go with the Pilgrims to Leyden, Holland, but joined them at Southampton and in 1620 sailed on the Mayflower leaving behind his wife and five small daughters, the eldest 14, the youngest 4 years of age. Richard was the 12th Signer of the Mayflower Compact. Much has been written about Richard's descent from William The Conqueror but as far as this writer can learn nothing has been proved about his ancestry or that of his wife except that he was not the son of Christopher nor was she Elizabeth (Jonatt) Marsh. In 1623 Richard's wife and daughters arrived on the Anne. Richard took an active part in the early life of the colony. He was in "the first encounter" when a party from the Mayflower met and fought with the Indians. Richard died about 1628.

The will of Nicholas dated Jan. 5 1604/5 named the children of Robert Seabrook, calls him son-in-law and names him executor. Robert was one of the earliest settlers of the town of Stratford, Conn. and had home lots 12 and 13. His children all daughters married prominent men in Conn. No will has been found of Robert's but John Wheeler who married the daughter of Alice Seabrook Sherwood states in a deed that he sold the land that came to his wife from her grandfather Seabrook.
